

Credit River Valley Project

To ensure continued safety, an approximately 600 metre section of Imperial's pipeline that carries jet fuel to Toronto Pearson International Airport, as well as diesel and gasoline used by commuters, will be proactively replaced.

The section of pipeline undergoing maintenance is in the existing utility corridor north of Highway 403 across the Credit River Valley.

In addition to working with different levels of government on environmental and construction permitting, Imperial wants to share project details and answer your questions.
